From the Conference Office

Annual Meeting 2017: A Wonderful Time of Connection

Thank you to those who joined together from June 8-10, 2017 for the 51st Annual Meeting of the Southeast Conference.

Over our three days together our authorized clergy met for retreat, some folks participated in Healthy Boundaries training, and our MIDs and PIEs met for their annual retreat and explored pastoral issues in addition.

We were fortunate to have a number of well-attended and well-received workshops, including "Exploring Social Justice in Churches," a panel discussion "Welcoming the Immigrant," "Not Your Mother's Youth Ministry: How 60 LGBTQ Teens Became a Youth Group," "Local Church as a Spiritual Center," and "The Local Church and the MID Process," and "Clergy Community of Practice." Thank you to all our workshop leaders for facilitating such insightful sessions!

Our keynote speakers, SharRon Jamison and Scott Shirai, each enlightened and informed everyone during their presentations about our vision for the future as local church leaders.

Many thanks to our Conference staff and volunteers for their hard work organizing the weekend, and to those who traveled from near and far to help us plan our next new thing!

The State of the Conference: A New Vision

My Dear Friends,

OCWM Giving

What a wonderful annual meeting we had! Your "official" welcome to me was so overwhelming. I am so blessed to be here among you for this interim time. Like I said in my shortened state of the conference, the priorities for our time together are listed below (with more details on our website). Please read them and ask me about them. These priorities are based on what I have heard and seen in my three months with you, but they can and should be adapted through our shared life and wisdom.

1. Continue to put policies and best practices into place. This is most easily translated into: organization
2. Discerning and articulating a vision that enables you to form a search committee and call your next conference minister.
3. Strengthen the relationship among the SEC churches, authorized ministers, and lay leaders.
4. Have fun celebrating all that God does in our midst.

Please read all the details on our website.

Blessings and peace,
Marie

A Message from PATHWAYS Dean

by Rev. Sarah Kim

Dear participants, colleagues, and friends of the PATHWAYS community,

As many of you already have been informed, my last day with PATHWAYS is June 30, 2017.

While I am scheduled to be traveling in Korea from 6/19 for vacation and research for a book that I'm working on, I do plan to check my email box whenever possible during this time through the 30th.

After 6/30/2017, please send your PATHWAYS Program related inquiries to pathways@secucc.org to contact the new PATHWAYS Administrator, Rev. Valerie Coe Lowder. The PATHWAYS Theological Education ministry will continue as scheduled on the 2017 Academic Calendar. Rev. Valerie and the PATHWAYS Advisory Committee -- chaired by Rev. Ginnie Ferrell -- have been working hard for the past several months to make this transition as smoothly as it can be.

Thank you, everyone, for the years of work and dedication you have contributed to the ministry of PATHWAYS. It is very exciting to hear that many of our graduates are scheduled to become ordained this year alone—a proof that we are doing an important work in the life of the wider church and the denomination.

As I reflect on my walk with PATHWAYS, I can't THANK YOU ALL enough for making this ministry possible—the commitment of the learners with clear vocational goals and vision, and the selfless dedication of the facilitators who have served beyond the call of duty, have been the key factors for the success of the program.

I also thank God and God's guiding Spirit for moving us forward, and allowing miracles to happen whenever we most needed them.

Blessings for your continued journey,
Sarah
